

FOR RANSOM

Orchard Plotted to Steal and Hold a Child.

CRIMES IN IDAHO

Are Recounted, Including Burglary, Till Tapping and Lesser Deeds—A Remarkable Story.

Boise, Idaho, June 13.—The defense on Wednesday carried the cross-examination of Harry Orchard down to the actual crime charged against him, the murder of Frank Steunenberg. The Steunenberg crime was reached at midday, and counsel for the defense directed their efforts to an attempt to cloud the earlier purposes and movements of Orchard with uncertainty. Then they emphasized the abandonment of all efforts to kill after Orchard first tracked Steunenberg to a hotel in Boise and with a skeleton key gained entrance to the room in which the governor was living.

Here they delayed for a moment to prove that Orchard twice wrote and once telephoned to Bill Easterly at Silver City to urge him to come and join in the crime, and the direct implication was that Orchard was endeavoring to inveigle another federation man into the crime, which would bring dishonor to the organization.

Then the witness was carried on his long journey into north Idaho and his crimes there, including a plot to kidnap and hold for ransom August Paulson's child were emphasized. Orchard swore that David Coates, formerly lieutenant governor of Colorado and late a publisher in Wallace, Idaho, first suggested the kidnapping to Pettibone and himself at Denver. Paulson, once a poor miner, had made a fortune in the Hercules mine, in which Orchard held an interest when the property was not paying; and it was believed that if his children were stolen he would "come up" with $25,000 or $30,000 in ransom. Orchard said when he went to north Idaho he got Jack Simpkins to enter the plot and together they went to Coates to renew the scheme.

Coates was asked to stand up and Orchard said he was the man. Orchard was then asked whether he had not himself proposed the crime to Coates, who refused him, and whether Jack Simpkins had not warned Paulson the minute he heard of the plot. Orchard denied both suggestions and insisted that Coates was to stay in the plot and handle the money they hoped to get from Paulson. Then the defense showed the witness in the commission of a series of mean crimes and reduced to poverty, in which he had to resort to pawnbroking, borrowing and stealing to live for a long period.

First he pawned jewelry and guns for $25 or $30. Then he accepted the hospitality of Paulson's home while he was plotting to steal Paulson's child. After that, with Jack Simpkins, he broke into the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co.'s station. They were after a trunkful of jewelry samples, but instead got a trunkful of shoe samples. Next he tapped a cash register at Burke for $30 or $40.

Summing up this period of crime, poverty and hard luck, the defense wanted to know why, if he were in Idaho on a mission of murder for Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone and with unlimited credit from them, he did not send to them for money, instead of borrowing and stealing. Orchard replied that he did send a letter to Moyer at Butte and got $100, but that he did not send to Haywood for more because he was temporarily off the Steunenberg murder errand and away from where Steunenberg lived.

Lastly, there came a showing that Orchard had borrowed $300 from Paulson on the strength of a fraudulent story that he was going to Los Angeles to sell mining stock for Coates, and that this was the money that paid his expenses when he went back to Caldwell on the final mission of murder.

WOMAN'S BEST FRIEND

All the Horrors of Change of Life for Five Years—Leucorrhea for Ten Years.

USED ZOA-PHORA

After Physicians Failed to Cure—That was Five Years Ago—Still Praising Zoa-Phora

Woman's best friend is the one that will give her the degree of buoyant health and strength that nature intended for her. Zoa-Phora is that friend. Not a "patent cure-all," but just a medicine, scientifically prepared for women only. One that acts directly on the diseased organs through the blood and nervous system, replacing the old worn-out tissues with new and removing congestion, inflammation and unnatural discharge.

Zoa-Phora is the well woman's friend, too, because it keeps her well.

Mrs. Edwin Lee, of Addison, Michigan, says: "Pen and ink can never tell what Zoa-Phora has done for me. It is indeed a true and tried friend and has never failed me once." Whether you are sick, ailing or well, keep a bottle of Zoa-Phora in the house all the time. It will prove a friend in need.

Mrs. Alice Brown, of Valley Junction, Iowa, wrote on May 27, 1902: "I wish to tell you that Zoa-Phora has been a wonderful blessing to me. I have been a sufferer for the last ten years from leucorrhea, and for the last five years with change of life and all its horrors. I took treatment from local physicians in Elkhart, Indiana, but received no benefit. Finally I was induced to begin taking Zoa-Phora, and after taking four bottles my health is restored. I can now do my own work, and can never thank you enough for the benefits derived from your wonderful remedy." On April 22, nearly five years later, Mrs. Brown writes: "You may still refer any woman to me. I will gladly recommend Zoa-Phora." Does this not prove that the benefit was permanent?

This letter is strong proof of the merit of Zoa-Phora. The only way that you can become positively convinced that Zoa-Phora will do as much for you is to try the medicine yourself. Go to your druggist and ask him for Zoa-Phora; no other explanation will be needed. You will receive the medicine already compounded in just the right proportions and put up in a sealed, sterilized, one dollar bottle.

In each package will be found a copy of "Dr. Pengelly's advice to Women," a medical book giving interesting and instructive information about the diseases of women and how to treat them. You can now treat yourself in the privacy of your home and need not tell your troubles to anyone.

Ruskin on Manual Labor.

We are always in these days endeavoring to separate intellect and manual labor; we want one man to be always thinking and another to be always working, and we call one a gentleman, and the other an operative; whereas the workman ought often to be thinking, and the thinker often to be working, and both should be gentlemen in the best sense. As it is, we make both ungentle, but one envying the other despising his brother; and the mass of society is made up of morbid thinkers and miserable workers!

In Paris once, I walked into a shoe store and stood there petrified, forgetting what I went in for, the big brunette cashier at the desk had such a furious mustache."
